Greenwood library offers technology camp for teens

Best Buy and Endress+Hauser supported program offered the week of Spring Break

Greenwood Public Library (GPL) will be hosting a week-long technology camp for teens in grades 6-12 the week of Spring Break. The Superhuman Samurai Cyber-Squad program will focus on a different component of technology with hands-on activities and presentations from professionals in the community. Lunch will be included each day, and participants will work on creating their own video games. Teens who attend all week and complete their projects will receive a free t-shirt and other awesome swag! Teens interested in participating are encouraged to register on GPL's website.

This program is sponsored by Best Buy and Endress + Hauser.

What: Superhuman Samurai Cyber-Squad
