Is either a Daring Adventure

Life is either a daring adventure--a challenge of the mind, body, and spirit-- Or it is an inclination to sit and vegetate.

Life can be a stimulus for excitement and achievement Or it is the seclusion and false security of extending no further than your own consciousness.

You can take each day and mold it into an adventure Or dread getting out of bed to begin it

Life's adventures extend from the moment you wake in the morning

Till you reflect on today and anticipate tomorrow in the quiet repose of evening.

It may not be Mt. Everest
you climb today

It may just be getting over that little hump in the road that is impeding your progress toward a goal.

Not everything you do in a day
may seem like an adventure--
But the events of each day can total the greatest adventure of all--LIFE!

You can be either a part of life or totally separated from reality.

The choice remains within you--the individual.

Life is either a daring

"... And now from Johnson County ... 5,4,3,2, TWEET-UP! ... Greenwood High School's Marching Woodmen under the direction of Mr. Herman Knoll ..."

The Woodmen began an adventurous march down the "Yellow Brick Road" the morning of August 22 at the Indiana State Fair. All those long, sweaty hours of practice before the Fair really paid off as Greenwood placed 10 in the State. The man responsible for this year's success was Mr. Herman Knoll, director.

Other highlights of the season included parades, half time shows, and post-game performances at Indiana State and Purdue. A warm welcome at Indiana State and Purdue's Band Day let the band relive their State Fair experience.

HOMECOMING...

A week of competition

With Diane Rawlings reigning as the 1973 Homecoming Queen, GCHS students delved into an adventurous and exciting week of pep sessions, chicken wire, and wheat paste, to end in a festive parade, a victorious football game, and a beautiful pigskin prom.

Each day of Homecoming week brought on a new adventure as students observed "special" days, such as "Mourning Day" and "Green and Gold Day".

This year, the Junior class achieved recognition with its first-place float. The float carried through with a Halloween theme and the caption "Brewing Up a Victory".

To conclude the active week a parade led the class floats through town and onto the football field, where the varsity squad rolled over the Plainfield Quakers.

Following the game, GCHS couples wound up the week romantically at the annual Pigskin Prom--a quiet ending to an explosive week.

'FAIR LADY'...

As the curtain rises, aspiring young actors and actresses launch into one of the most daring adventures of their high school years. But a musical production of "My Fair Lady" is no different.

Many unsung souls invest countless hours of hard labor to guarantee the success of the production. Although the work and dedication of the cast is visible, few people realize the adventures pursued by the people who never appear on stage . . . the musicians mastering new scores for the pit band . . . tech crew members feverishly pounding and painting every day to meet deadlines . . . trying to complete sets . . . lighting crews accomplishing those special effects with intricate electronic equipment . . . the business crews attacking the enormous job of distributing reserved tickets and publicizing the production in an attempt to reach their goal--a full house.

Ultimately, these collected achievements are poured into a single adventure as the opening night crowd begins filling the auditorium. The overture begins, the curtain rises, the spotlights focus on stage, the characters captivate their audience with the excitement of the production. For the cast and crews, the dream of their adventure is realized as they take their bows and receive the much-deserved applause.

SPORTS

New adventures cropped up throughout the year in sports as GCHS began exploring new areas of athletic competition and continuing performance in old ones.

Ed Wetzel was the lone member of our first diving team, placing fifth in the State.

Two new programs--gymnastics and girls' track--were developed.

A good year for football with a winning varsity season and undefeated reserves.

The cross country and tennis teams showed great improvement. Barb Young became the first female athlete on the previously all-male tennis team.

Girls showed their skill with the basketball and volleyball as both teams captured county titles.

A disappointing varsity basketball season ended in a visible lack of school spirit.

The wrestling season closed with Greenwood holding both the county and sectional titles.

Thus, GCHS upheld its name in the world of sports.

Woodmen go 7-3

Neither rain, nor sleet, nor dark of night (remember the second annual Center Grove blackout) kept the Varsity Football team from capturing the title "County Champs" repeating their 7-3 record.

With a team made up of 17 seniors, the Woodmen finished third in the conference losing to only Plainfield and Speedway. Jeff Ferguson, senior, was the leading conference defensive player for the second straight year with 219 defensive points. Bill Williams, senior, was fifth and Rocky Byrum, junior, was eighth behind Ferguson. Dave Vleck, senior, led offensive scoring in the County with sixty points.

Vleck was voted MVP and Ferguson was awarded the Mike

Neely Award as Most Valuable Lineman. Williams received the Rick Machledt award for mental attitude.

Greenwood opened the season with their first overtime play, winning 6-3 over Franklin. Using the wishbone option, the Woodmen charged on to defeat county rivals Center Grove, 46-6, and Whiteland 8-6, another overtime. Holding Decatur, Danville, and Franklin Central scoreless. The defense gave up only 9.2 points per game, while the offense scored 18.7 points a game.

Coach Gary Vandergriff said, "Both the offense and defense were strong. The defense made some improvements, but overall there were few changes in offense or defense."

UNDEFEATED!

UNDEFEATED!

That's how Coach Robert Whitson and the strong Reserve Football team rounded out the 1973 season--UNDEFEATED. Mr. Whitson said some of the toughest teams the reserves played were Speedway, Plainfield, and Beech Grove.

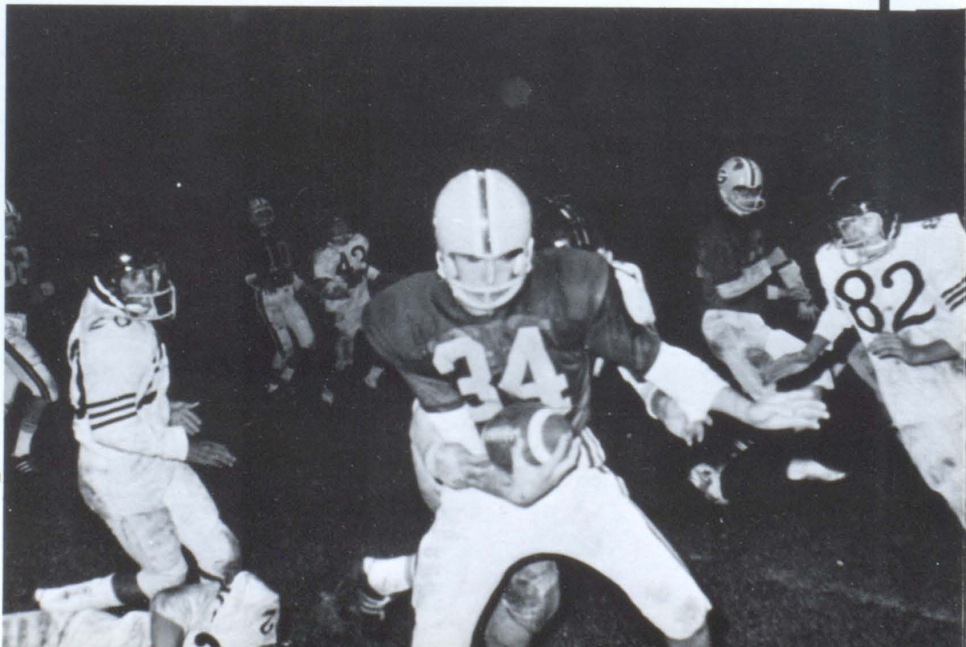

Dan Henning with 88 points and Mike Crockett with 60 points were leading scorers, but defense was also important on this team. Some of the outstanding defensive players were Mike Schaefer, Randy Walker, Mike Prince, Dave Orr, and Dan Williams. Leading the offense were Steve Garbe, Dan Henning, Mike Crockett, and Steve Epstein.

The Reserve strength will become the nucleus of the Varsity for the next two years. According to the coaches, this team will make the Varsity a top contender in the Mid-State and possibly in the IHSAA play-offs.

Frosh go 2-5-1

In an excellent display of desire and attitude, a strong Freshmen Football team gained gridiron experience with a 2-5-1 record, under Coach Mike Walsman and Asst. Coach Mike Dougherty. "Our season record does not indicate the type of ball we played," says Coach Walsman. "We were usually smaller than our opponents, but played very well in most games."

Throughout the year, the team was led by co-captains

Bill Burks and Jim Wheat. The team was formed around about fifteen good, solid ball players who, given a chance to put on some weight and grow, should develop into top football players, said Coach Walsman.

Strongest in defensive efforts, "this team never quit, always maintained a very good spirit, and most importantly, was made up of a group of fine young men who gave 100% effort all the time," said Walsman.

Runners finish season 4-25

Although their 4-25 record may not be an indicator, the cross country team had an excellent season, as they showed great improvement throughout the year, both individually and as a team. Hampered by injuries and illness, plus the loss of Marshall Wolfe, an excellent runner, the team forged ahead to win four tough meets. This should give returning runners an excellent foundation on which to build a good team next year.

The team's improvement is indicated by the decrease in time of the top speeds. The top speed at the first meet, set by Marshall Wolfe, was 14:51, while the high speed of the last meet was 13:00, set by Frank Fish.

The team was led by Frank Fish, who was voted the Most Valuable Runner and Most Improved Runner. Frank was also a member of the 1500-mile club the only member of the team to acquire this distinction. Frank was followed by John Fouts, the sole harrier in the 500-mile club.

Unfortunately, the cross country team will be losing four fine runners with the loss of seniors Ed Abbott, Dan Andrews, John Fouts, and Tony Richey, but the outlook is promising with a number of strong men returning.

Netmen end on win

After a disheartening 0-5 start, the Greenwood Varsity Tennis team came back to win 3 of their last 5 matches, place 13 out of 17 in the Southport Sectional, and finish 3rd out of four teams in the Center Grove Invitational, narrowly being ousted from 2nd by host Center Grove.

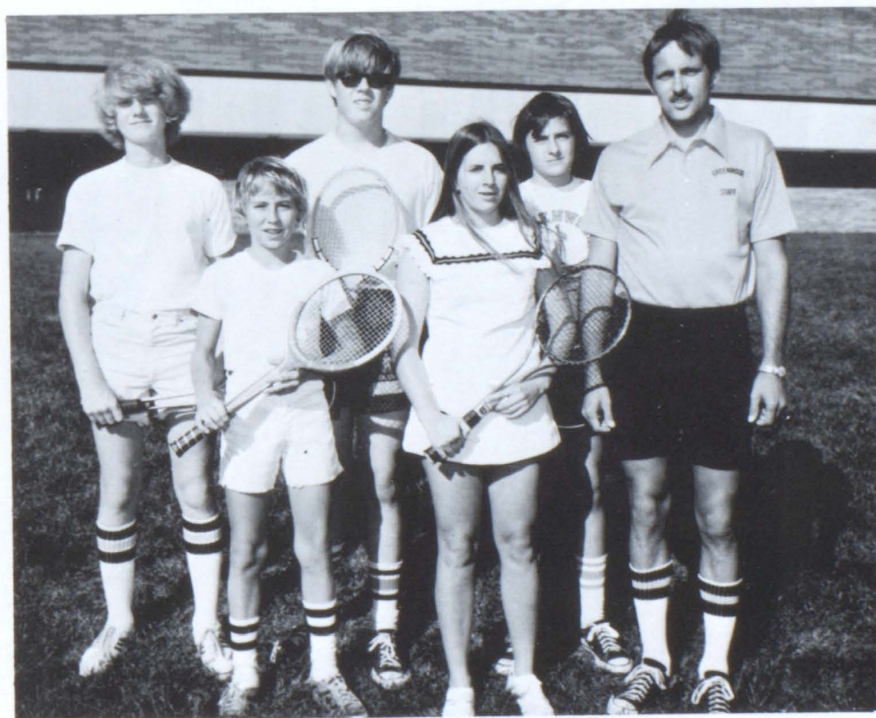

Outstanding netmen throughout the season were Gary Bowman and Berkely Inabnitt. Gary won his division in the Center Grove Invitational and Berkely turned in his best effort during the Southport Sectional, going three rounds before being eliminated.

Both Coach Ed Roush and the team have high hopes that next year will be the best season in recent years with six returning lettermen, four of them seniors, and a very promising reserve squad. Coach Roush said that the team will learn from this year's mistakes, but most of all would keep its "fairness and judgement" during the 1974 season.

Varsity suffers 2-19 season

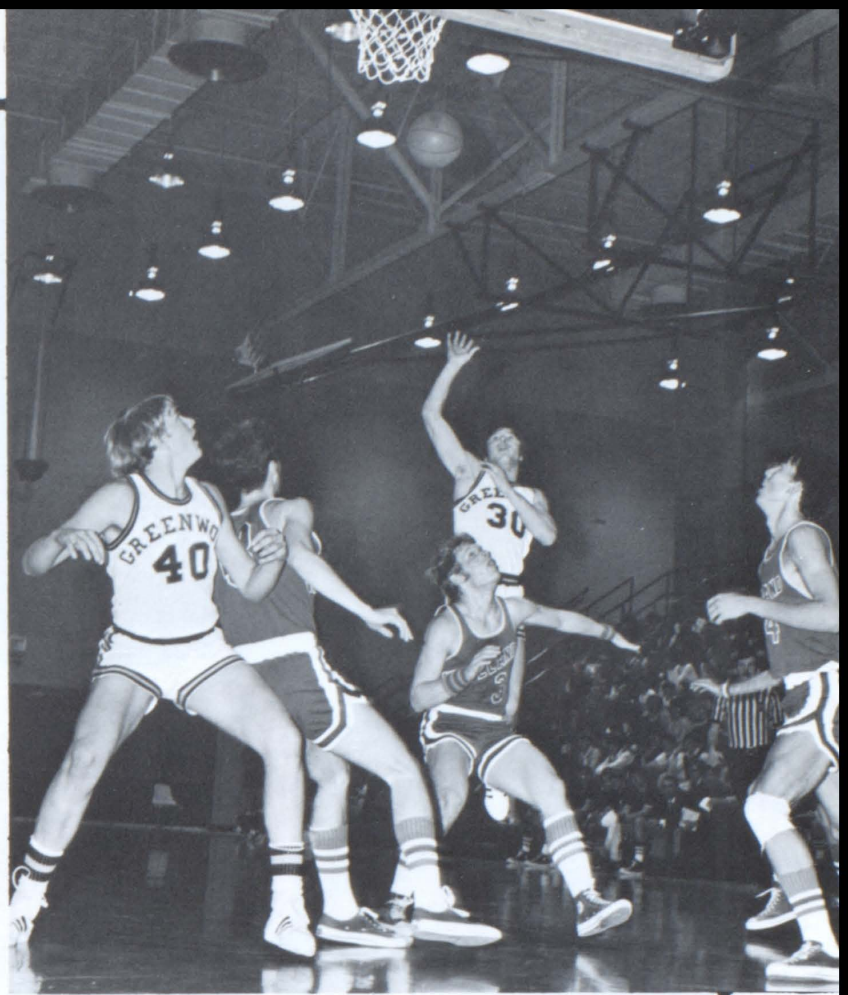

The Varsity basketball season was a rebuilding one for the young and inexperienced Woodmen, as they finished with a 2-19 record.

Composed of two Seniors, five Juniors, and five Sophomores, Coach Tom Cummings said, "It was a good learning experience for the boys." Although the final record is poor, Coach Cummings said that he felt the team gave 100%, doing the best they could with the lack of experience.

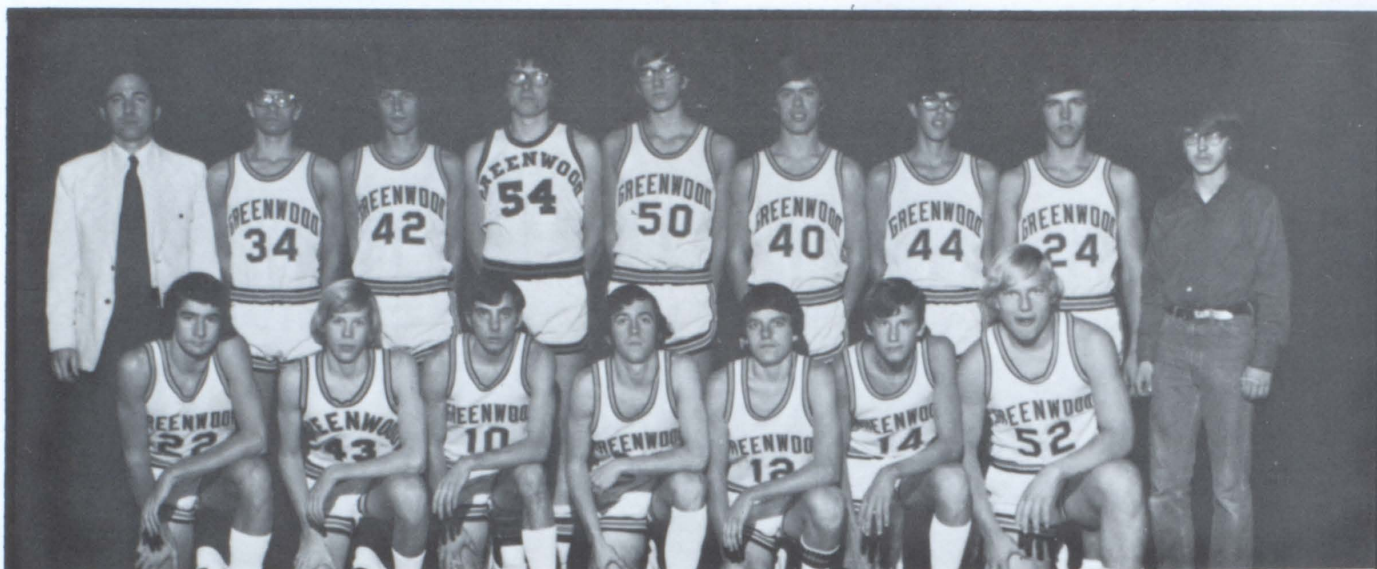

Leading the team was co-captain Tom Harmon, who was voted MVP. He also led the team in field goal and free throw percentage and rebounding. Co-captain Dave Vleck led in assists and shared in defensive credits with sophomore Steve Garbe. Junior Dave Dilk won the Mental Attitude award at the end of the season.

Selected as co-captains for 1974-75 were Steve Ruddick and Glen Clawson.

Reserves lose 5-13

The Reserves finished the season with a 5-13 record. Coach Mike Walsman said that the record does not indicate the type of season the team had. "Our offensive average was 38.2 points per game, while our defense gave up only 46.3 points per game, for a difference of 8.1."

Leading scorer and rebounder was Randy Walker with 7.1 points per game and 85 rebounds. Tab Boaz led assists with 19. Most of the team will be returning as 12 were sophomores and 3 juniors. Coach Walsman said the team could be characterized by "the following traits: excellent hustle most of the time, good attitude in that they always continued to look forward to improve, 100% effort on the floor and in practice, and pride in themselves."

The future of the team rests with this group of players. This was a learning and building year.

Fresh learn game

Both the A and B team had a hard season this year because they were shorter than their competition and they got off to a bad start during the season. But after they got started, they played hard never giving up when the going got rough. Many of the games were close in scoring, but the Freshmen Woodmen couldn't overcome the odds.

The A-Team finished with a 3-14 losing streak. The leading field goal scorer was Brian Malson with 44% and Mark Veach with 43%.

Leading in free throws were Brian Malson with 66% and Bobby Harris with 57% from the charity stripe. Leading in rebounds were Brian Malson with 85, Jim Wheat with 76, and Duane Waite with 60. All together the team made 33% of their field goals, 53% of their free throws, and made 382 rebounds.

The B-Team finished the season with a 2-12 record. Leading in field goals for the season were Duane Waite and Mike Fasig both with 50% and Tony Julian with 38%. Leading in free throws were Duane Waite, Don Foley, and Matt Wentworth all with 50% from the line. The leading scorer was Mark Tinkle with 55 points. The B-Team made 26% of their field goals; 41% of their free throws and 279 rebounds.

Through the gloom of rain and some sunny days, the track team finished with a respectable season. Under new head coach John Irons, the team spent many days working out in the halls as the track was not in good shape and the rains came.

Outstanding through the season were seniors Tim Roland and Bill Williams. Underclassman Mike Crockett showed great promise as he and Bill went to the State.

Varsity wins County

County Champions!

The Varsity Baseball team became the County Champs by defeating eventual Sectional runners-up Franklin. With coaches Gary Vandergriff and Ed Roush, the team posted a winner record despite the rain and the poor field conditions.

Outstanding for the team was pitcher Fred Vest who pitched them to their county win. With the majority of the team returning, the Woodmen look good for '75.

Reseves win

The Reserve Baseball team under the direction of Coach Ed Roush, found the rains not to their liking as much practice time and game time was rained out. The team worked under the pitching of underclassmen to end their season with a fair record.

The Woodmen found some tough opponents in the County and conference when they went into tournament play. The experience gained this season will strengthen the varsity and form the nucleus for the reserves for the next season.

Braving wet links, the golfers completed their season in May. Playing home matches at El Dorado Country Club, the golfers teamed up for individual low scores and for low team play. Leading the golfers was the lone Senior Pat Quillin who placed consistently high in the individual finishes.

ACADEMICS

Adventures in academics meant attending classes, taking notes, listening, and studying. Tests, homework, and written assignments were all a part of the adventure of education.

Some found the adventure in classes demanding creative ability such as in art, music, or some of the writing courses. Others found their place in skills classes in industrial arts, home economics, physical education. Still others prepared for a vocation through business or Central 9.

English

Course 255 Modern Poetry.

Course 271 Guided Independent Study.

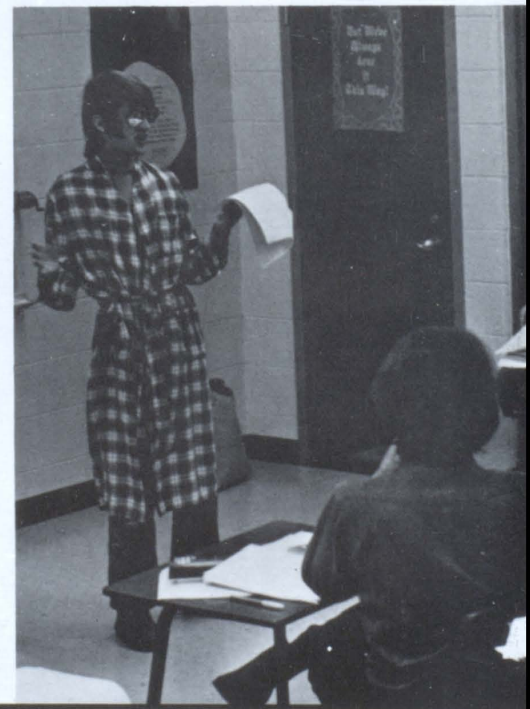

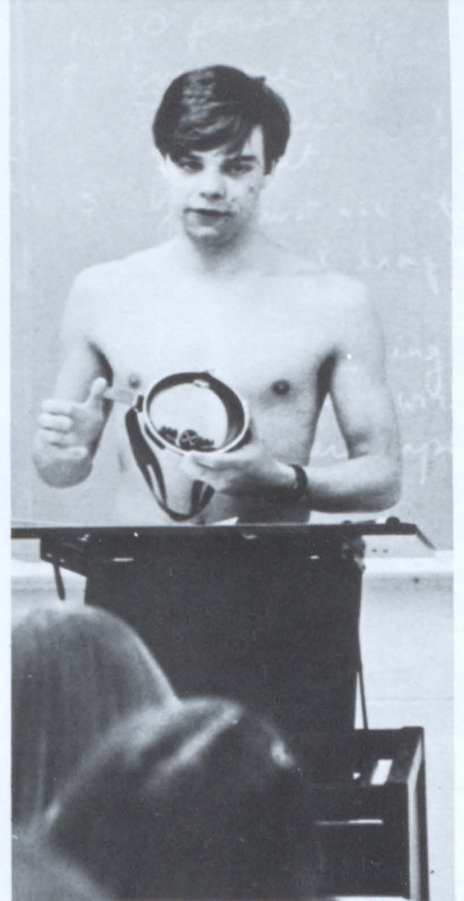

Course 234 Fiction.

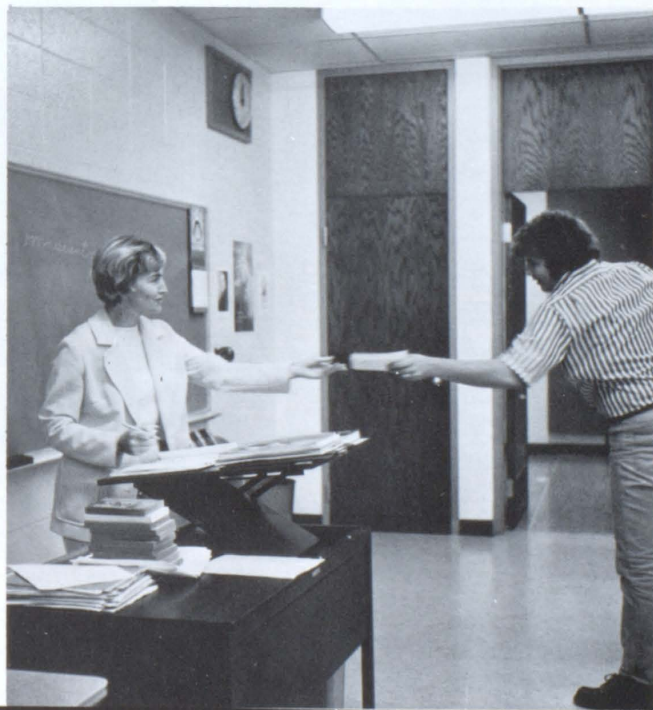

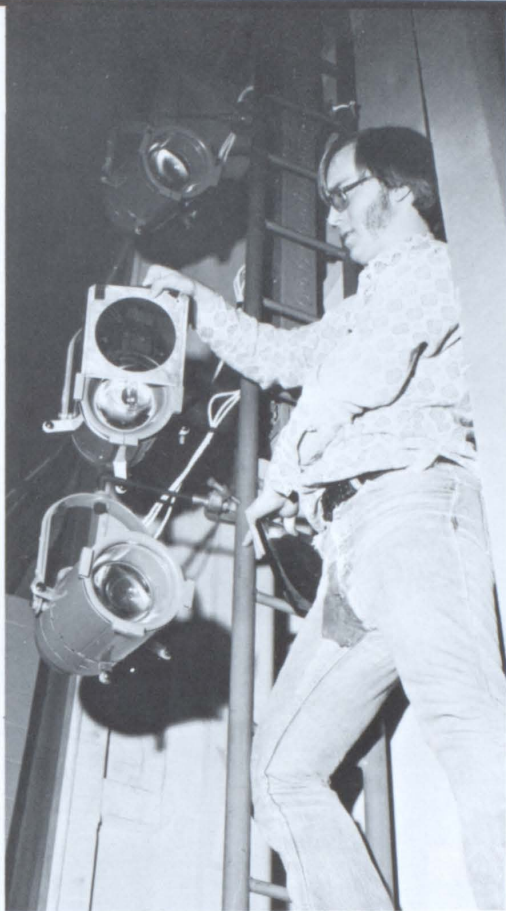

Some 32 different courses were offered by the English Department this year under the first year of an elective program. After a year of planning under chairman A.J. Stone, English classes became a favorite of students for the first time.

Allowed to elect the courses to fill the second and two years of English requirements, students found themselves wanting to take more courses than they could get into their schedules. In the future the department will add new course selections to the list as interest increases.

According to Mr. Stone, the program is sound as it allows students to choose courses they have an interest in. Grammar and composition are blended with the literature to give students the basic communication skills needed in the future. The success of the program is reflected in the high student interest.

Social Science

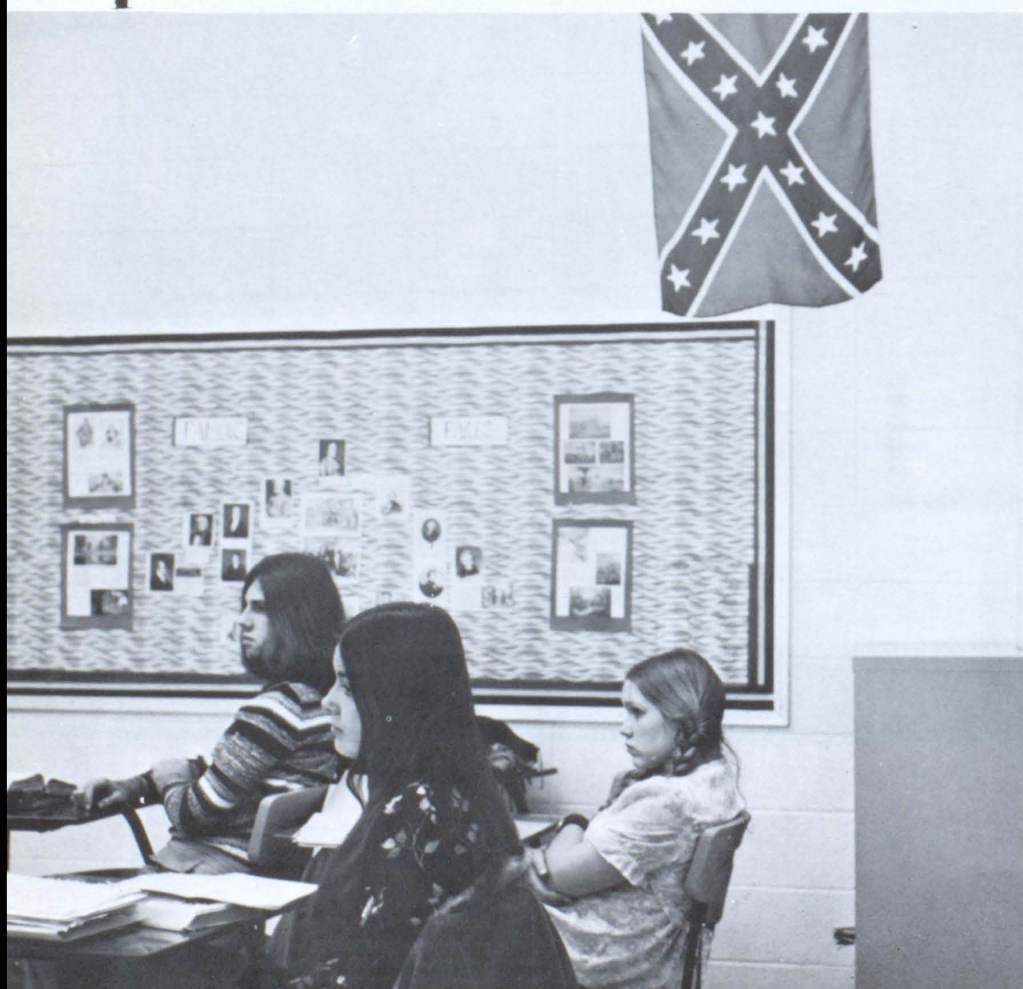

The purpose of the Social Studies Department is to acquaint students with the past and with problems of the present and to develop some ability to think critically about today's world, according to Mr. Melvin Smith, chairman. Knowledge gained in courses within the department help students to make decisions required for living in a democratic society. Legislative games and a mock Congress were just two of the activities used in the area to stimulate student thinking. Panel discussions, outside speakers and simulation games assisted students in learning.

Math

From the difficult problems of calculus and advanced mathematics to the more practical business math, students in the math department prepare for the future. The practical application of mathematics is stressed whether it be a stepping stone for more advanced math or for personal use in business opportunities.

TOP: Geometry class, famous for its cartoons on the bulletin board, take a test on theorems.
ABOVE: Part of the job of math teachers is grading endless sets of problems as Mr.

William McFerran does.

Science

The relationship between man and his environment is ever an increasing interest of scientists including those young science students on the upper level of the building experimenting and discovering. While chemistry students worked with the elements of nature in various combinations, the life science students were dissecting animals to learn about the functions of man.

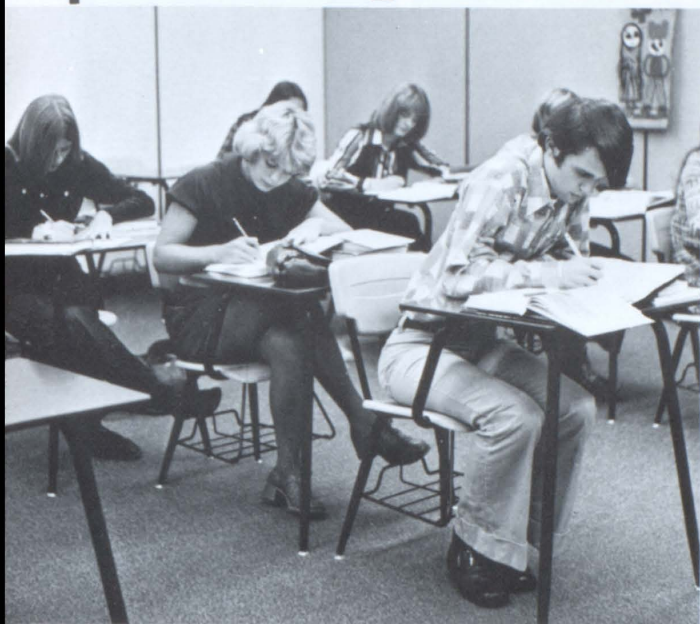

Physical science students went quietly about working with the physical forces in nature. Advanced students in the areas worked on individual projects, some of which were displayed in the glass cases on the science/math corridor.

TOP: Disecting is one of the major projects for biology students. Working on the fetal pig is the most advanced dissection done in the class.

BELOW: Lab work is important in all areas of science whether it be biology, chemistry, or physics. It is in the lab that the students learn the practical application of what they read in the text. Labs also offer the chance to discover new processes.

Study

Business

The Business Department added new calculators and IBM selectric typewriters in an effort to prepare students to obtain beginning jobs in business and to make contributions to the student's understanding in economic education, career education, and general education. The knowledge gained through these courses help students both on a job and as users of goods and services as a home-maker and consumer of tomorrow.

ABOVE: Secretarial practice lab acquaints girls with many business skills. Girls work in various office jobs during the year.

Art

Under the direction of Mr. Joseph Reynolds, the Art Department went through many changes. Jewelry making was added to the course offerings and metal working equipment added.

Mr. Reynolds said that the directive for the year was to develop an understanding and appreciation of art and to teach students the process of creative thinking and producing the finished product. This type of knowledge can be used in vocational as well as academic pursuits.

Students in the department won numerous awards in the Scholastic Art Show, Student Art Fair, and Tri-Kappa Art Show.

Home Economics

A two foot tall cowboy shooting up classrooms was not uncommon if students were enrolled in Child Development. Home Economics students did more than cook and sew, as they studied Family Living, Child Development and Interior Decorating.

Display cases were filled with clothing made in beginning and advanced clothing classes. The smell of cookies or garlic bread baking, and the unusual special occasion cakes were results.

I-Art

The beginning of an addition to the Industrial Arts building was the highlight of the year for the I-Arts area. Teaching students about industry and helping them prepare for technical or industrial fields, is the purpose of Industrial Arts.

Courses include woods, metals, electricity, auto mechanics, drafting, and printing and graphic arts. More advanced courses will be added to the curriculum for 1974-75 when the department moves into the expansion. With more room, an increased enrollment can be easily handled.

ABOVE: Graphic Arts students print the School and Community news letter on school press.
BELOW: Woodworking classes turn out many useful articles.

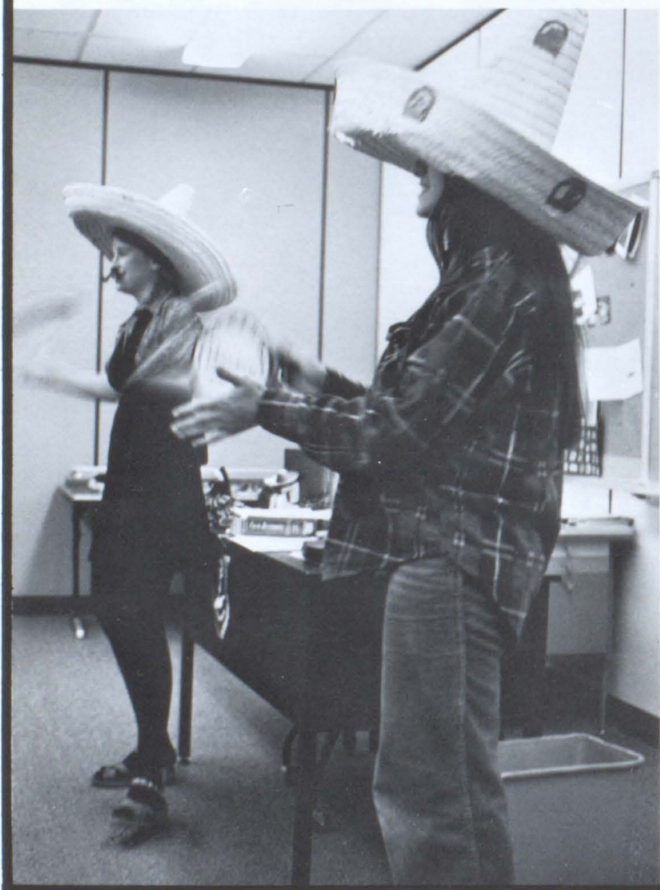

Spanish, French, and Latin are the three foreign languages offered to students. Teaching an appreciation of culture as well as spoken and written language, the department makes use of the language lab and films.

Customs of countries speaking these languages were brought to life around holidays. Skits and native games helped students come to appreciate countries other than America. Two new teachers came to the department, Miss Linda Geary, Spanish and Mrs. Anne Tyler, French.

P.E. / Health

With emphasis on directing students into a worthwhile leisure-time activity, the Physical Education Department added bowling and golf to the curriculum.

Tennis rackets were not an unfamiliar sight as some classes took up tennis and archery.

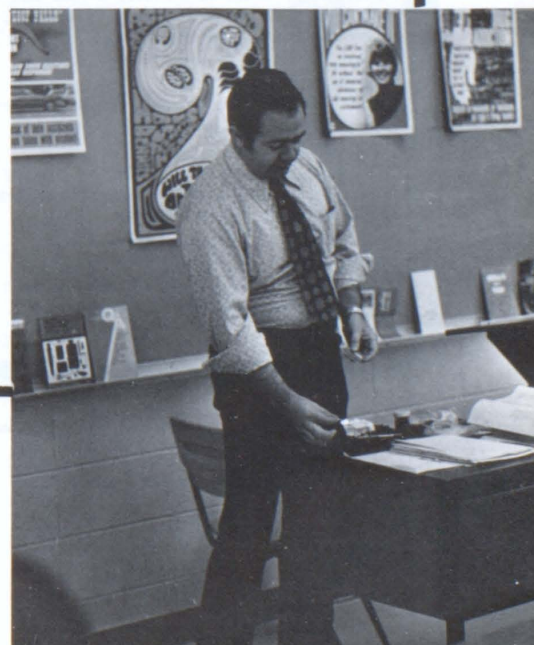

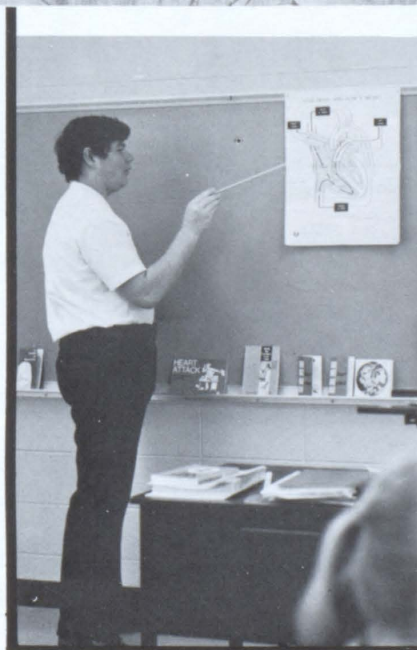

Health classes were highlighted by special speakers on drugs and alcohol, resuscitation, and fire prevention. Along with these speakers, students worked on self-improvement projects.

Open to juniors and seniors, students may take advantage of both one and two year programs. While attending his home high school for half the day, a student spends the remainder at C-9.

Courses are offered in all phases of auto mechanics, body repair, printing, computer programming, business and office management, accounting, distributive education, food services, health services, electronics, machine operations, and horticulture.

ACTIVITIES

Activities and organizations are filled with adventure. Developing leadership qualities is the goal of all organizations at GCHS. From holding an office to being a committee member, GCHS students planned a full year with club activities.

Leading the way in activities was the theater department with three productions for the year. The Art Club displayed student works and sponsored an Art Fair. Latin and French Clubs continued their annual activity days. Days of 1950 were relived as Student Council sponsored a '50's day and the band a '50's dance.

The adventures of clubs made the year more exciting.

"Skin of Our Teeth"

'The Skin of Our Teeth' by Thornton Wilder, opened the 1973-74 season of the GCHS Theater. This play involved almost 100 students, with a cast of 39 and a crew of 50.

This World War II comedy carried a philosophic message which left many members of the audience puzzled. The play involved the Antrobuses, a typical family which symbolized the Human family, and the struggles to survive the disasters facing mankind in various periods of time.

This play was difficult to produce and proved to be a great learning experience for many of the students working in the cast and on the crew.

'Butterflies Are Free'

Greenwood's last production of the year, "Butterflies Are Free", under the direction of Mr. A.J. Stone and student director Lynn Lancaster, closed the theater season on a successful note. The play, a contemporary comedy, had a mood easily understood by the audience. Parts of the play's success belonged to the unity of the cast, four of GCHS's more experienced actors, and the diligent work of the tech crew.

Drama

Thespians, an honor society for accomplished dramatists, staged three successful productions in the 1973-74 season. Starting with "The Skin of Our Teeth", they followed with the all school musical, "My Fair Lady", and closed with "Butterflies are Free".

Thespian Troupe 323 officers Lynn Lancaster, president; Byron Mathis, vice-president; and David Young, secretary-treasurer, initiated new members who had enough theatrical experience in an informal ceremony. Thespian Society is designed to honor those who have participated in high school theater. To become a Thespian, one must earn 10 points in any two theatrical areas. Troupe 323 has 33 members who continued to add to their point totals attaining Thespian awards. Mr. A.J. Stone is sponsor of the Troupe.

With the addition of a large number of underclassmen entering the theater department, the tech crew has been larger this year than in any other. The addition of a Theater Arts class in the English curriculum has also helped involve many new people in the total program.

Under the direction of Mr. A.J. Stone, the tech crew works mainly on the building and operation of sets for drama productions and musicals. The crew also operated equipment for all community events and convocations in the auditorium.

Frequently, the endless hours of hard work performed by this group are overlooked in the glamour and excitement that accompanies any theatrical production. Without the tech crew, the theater department would not be as active as it is at GCHS.

Cheerleaders

After attending a cheerleading camp at Vincennes University, and capturing a county championship in the summer, the cheerleaders returned in the fall ready to generate school spirit for athletic events. This was accomplished by leading original songs on Friday mornings, sponsoring special spirit days, and decorating the halls with posters, in addition to leading cheers at the athletic events.

As cheerleaders, these girls have put in a great deal of extra time and effort into accomplishing the enormous task of inspiring students to back their athletic teams. Their work, in addition to that of sponsor Miss Cheryl Flick, is appreciated by coaches and athletic teams.

Pep Sessions

The booster club is the backbone of all the cheerleader's efforts. "Under new management", this year's booster club offered many new activities and special benefits to club members. Each member received a free box of popcorn and a drink at a basketball game, a free badge, and admission to a wrestling meet. Booster Club members attended special pep sessions and cheered the teams on at all athletic events. While school spirit was at a low, the booster club pulled through to give support to the Woodmen.

In addition to a number of booster club pep sessions, an all-school pep session for both the sectionals and homecoming added to school spirit.

Opening the season successfully by helping the Marching Woodmen win tenth place at State Fair, the Greenwood pom corp continued their success by entertaining the fans at all home football games. With the addition of flags and the start of rifle corp, the Greenwood pom corp practice drills and military precision in order to add a new dimension to GHS's Marching Woodmen. This coming year will bring the most elaborate and exciting show at the State Fair in Greenwood's history.

Radio Club plans for FM station at GCHS

The charter members of the radio club began the formation of an FM radio station to operate from GCHS.

The group spent time visiting other high schools and college campuses where a radio station is already in operation. In addition, club members polled the student body and community concerning various aspects of the operation of a radio station.

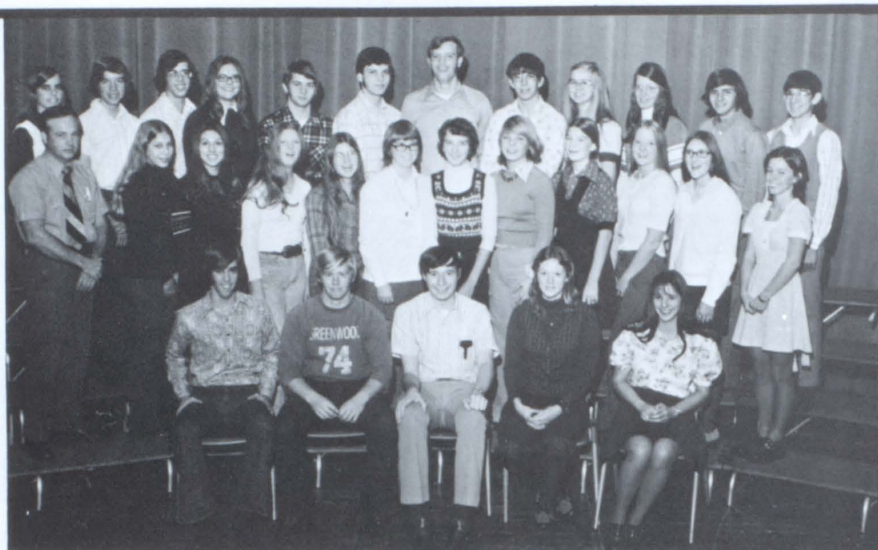

An application for an FCC license was made in addition to applications for 3rd Class Operator's Licenses made by several individual members.

During the lunch hours, John Frederick, David Charles and Ralph Cummings produced a mock radio station to give them experience for working in a real station.

Nature Club

Sponsored by Mr. Richard Wood, the Naturalist Club had an eventful year. As a new club, the group formed in the fall for students interested in nature and outdoor activities. A requirement of the club is at least one year of Biology.

Throughout the year, the club engaged in a number of special activities. Among these activities were field trips to Brown County and Morgan-Monroe State Forest. The group enjoyed hiking, spelunking, and canoeing.

Business Club

The Business Club is an organization for students interested in business education. Led by Mrs. Sharon Watters, the group went on several field trips and sponsored a candy sale. Throughout the year, the club also participated in many other special activities. The purpose of the club is to provide students interested in business opportunities a chance to explore careers.

Cadet Teachers/ FTA

Future Teachers of America focused their attentions on exploring teaching as a profession. Working with Mrs. Ann Tyler, the members participated in National Education Week, held a teacher appreciation day, and served as Cadet Teachers at Southwest Elementary.

Cadet Teachers are seniors who wish to get some experience in the classroom. Students went to Southwest and assisted teachers in the lower elementary grades with reading, arithmetic, and recreational activities.

While spending one period a day teaching, the students also prepared written reports for FTA and did outside readings in education. For some it was the type of experience that convinced them to continue in education as a profession.

A.V.

Operation and distribution of the schools Audio-visual equipment is only part of the job performed by the AV assistants. These students also keep records of equipment use and make minor repairs on the equipment.

The equipment the assistants work with includes projectors, record players, tape recorders, transparencies, and the VTR video tape equipment.

This year, Jim Brunnemer was in charge of recording equipment use and Mike Stieff and Jim Brunnemer operated the video tape equipment at football and basketball games.

Under the direction of Mr. Bill Mellencamp, these students performed a vital and necessary service to the school.

Collecting attendance each period, taking passes to students from the office, and assisting the counselors and office staff are just a few of the jobs of the office workers. During the year they learn to answer the phone and ring extensions, run the duplication machines in the teachers' workroom, and assist students needing information from the office. When these workers are not busy, they do filing, write letters, and sort mail. The office workers help the secretaries greatly.

Home Ec. Club

Under the supervision of Janet Henry and Alice Wood, future homemakers from GHS participated in many new experiences as members of the Home Ec Club. The club's major activity was a fashion in which the members modeled clothing they had made.

In addition the group sold stationery during lunch periods as a moneymaking project, and sponsored a Valentine's Day party at a childrens home as a service project.

At special meetings, the members hosted guest speakers which discussed topics related to home economics.

Student Council

As a governing body, the student council performs many services for the school. One of its major accomplishments was the acquisition of a school seal to be hung over the student rug. A great deal of time was spent raising funds for this. The majority of the money was raised at Fun Night--a program in which the Middle School faculty matched the High School faculty in a basketball game and the faculty women matched the girls in a game of volleyball. A sock hop followed.

The French Club, under the leadership of Mrs. Anne Tyler, the Latin Club under the sponsorship of Mrs. Joan Follmer, and the Spanish Club, under Miss Linda Geary, offered a variety of new activities for foreign language students.

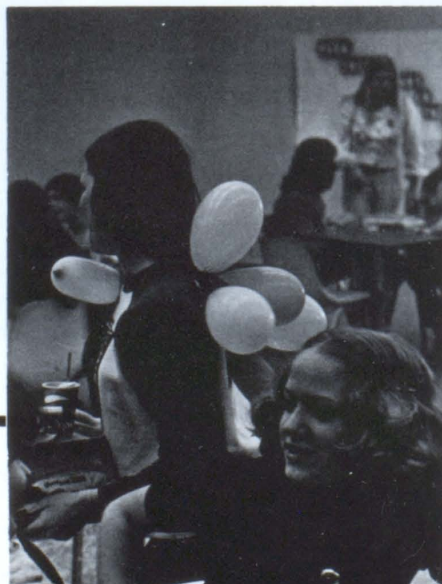

While the Spanish Club sponsored a Christmas Party, the French Club sponsored a French Day (during which club members can speak only French) and dined at a French restaurant. With a program similar to the French Club's, the Latin Club sponsored a Slave Day during which upperclassmen in the club were served by underclass 'slaves' they had bought. The Latin Club went to an Italian restaurant at the end of school. As a money making project the club maintained a coat check during the basketball season.

Woodman

The Publications Department is responsible for the WOODMAN and THE TIMBERLINES.

Students in this area not only write the copy but also process the pictures, draw the layouts, sell the ads, and do most of the mechanical work. Many man-hours are spent in gathering the facts for the two publications. Staff meetings go on from the first of August until the last of May most evenings and some Saturdays.

Staff members are selected through applications which are reviewed by the department adviser, Miss Susan Edwards, and the senior editors of each staff. Editors are selected on the basis of experience and previous work. New staffs take over the last issue of the newspaper and proofread the yearbook. Summers are spent at institutes and workshops planning for the following year.

FRIENDS

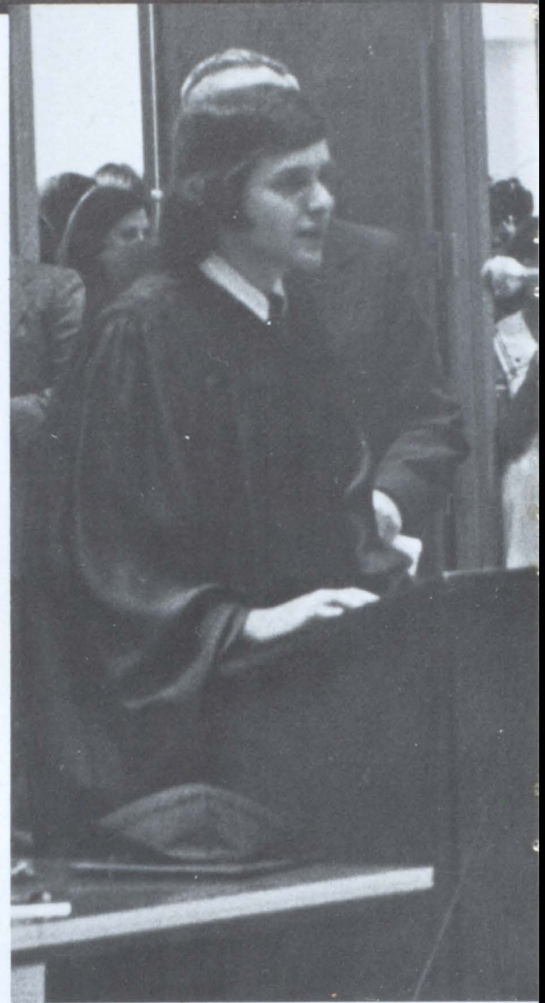

Friends are an adventure. Making new friends of those who come to GCHS as freshmen and transfer students was part of the year.

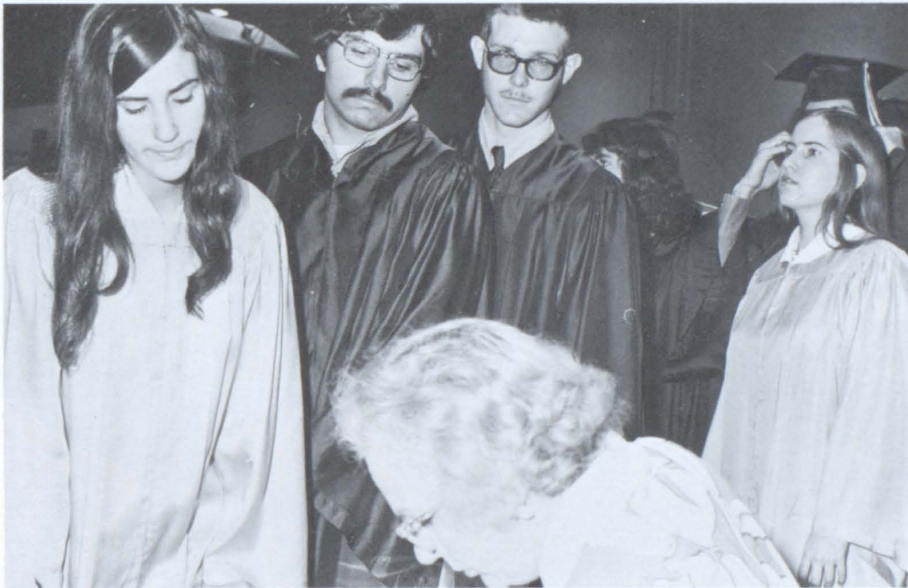

Friends share in the experiences and adventures of the year. They share in the triumphs as well as in the defeats each of us faced throughout 1973-74. And the adventure of friendship goes on through the years - never ending.

Class of '74 Adventure

On May 23, 1974 after 12 long years of being the "class of '74", 229 seniors had to suddenly focus their minds on themselves and realize what they had accomplished and what their future might be. As every senior reflected on the past 12 years of his life, each remembered his elementary days of show and tell, recess, and music festivals; his junior high years of "sections", dances, and convos; and the high school years of homecoming, proms, and class elections. But now these times are over and new times lie ahead: a daring adventure in life.

Y site of Post Prom

Baxter YMCA was the site for the post-prom. Basketball, swimming, ping pong, pool, and other activities awaited the prom goers.

Sponsored by the junior parents, the post prom was the climax of an evening of fun and entertainment. Many couples went to various State parks for a picnic the following day.

Juniors win float. spirit contests

After two years of experience, this year's Junior class finally won the Homecoming float competition, along with winning the spirit trophy at the Homecoming pep session.

The Preliminary Scholastic Aptitude Test (PSAT) and the Scholastic Aptitude Test (SAT) helped prepare Juniors for college.

The Juniors were in charge of concessions in order to raise money for the 1974 Junior-Senior Prom, which was held at Franklin College.

Sophs get 'hang of things'

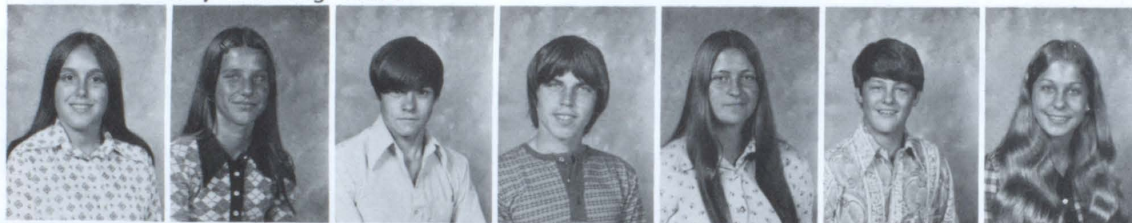

Having the "hang of things" now, the sophomores tried a few tricks of their own on the incoming freshmen, but the novelty soon wore off and they focused their attention on "getting it all together" this year.

Meant by "getting it all together" was getting second place float at Homecoming, having an undefeated Reserve football team, ordering class rings, taking the National Educational Development Test (NEDT), and getting the Spirit trophy at the pep session for the basketball sectional!

Helping the sophomore class "Get it all together" were the officers: Marla Falconbury, President; Mazie Smart, Vice President; Nadine Thomas, Secretary; Ann Statler, Treasurer.

'Crumbgrabbers'

learn ropes

While the Freshmen were congregating in the middle of the halls trying to remember what class to go to, or standing in front of their lockers trying to remember their combination, the scheming upper-classmen were diligently making their way through the huge mobs of "crumbgrabbers".

While desperately attempting to succeed in their first year of High School, the Class of '77 was eagerly awaiting the days that they would become sophomores. After having been the "Superior beings" at the Middle School they suddenly had to conform to be the "Inferior beings" at G.C.H.S.
